the use of modalities (functional electrical stimulation, transcutaneous electrical stimulation tens, ultrasound, phonophoresis, biofeedback) may be indicated to improve function one cubic meter of steel in seawater exerts downward force about 68,000 newtons whereas the same volume barbiturates are a type of benzodiazepine and work to suppress the central nervous system, thereby resulting in a calm feeling of relaxation which many people find pleasant andor therapeutic